 Other, please explain

Explanation: Why is this product or service the only one that would satisfy the requirement(s)?

Maxx-Cuff High Security Handcuffs are needed for high security transports and containments of Detainees at the Department of Corrections. These handcuffs were first purchased in January 2011. After an extensive review by a committee to determine the most secure hand cuff that could not be tampered with or compromised by detainees, this hand cuff was purchased and put in use. Keys for these handcuffs are keyed uniquely to our institution. In order to maintain the safety and security of the Department of Corrections we must continue to purchase this specific high security hand cuff.

Due Diligence. Describe the due diligence performed that led to the conclusion that this is a sole source.

This vendor is the manufacturer of the high security hand cuff modification. Although the handcuff itself is a model Smith and Wesson, it is the modified cover this manufacturer adapts to make the hand cuff tamper-proof.

Manufacturer's of Cuff-Maxx, High Security Upgrades for Handcuff's and Leg Iron's

Boa Handcuff Company manufacture's the first truly secure handcuffs and leg irons available today. It's simple; we've made our products using unique keys that no one can copy. Only you have the keys to your cuffs. Our High Security product uses a "Restricted Key" that is only sold to confirmed authorized personnel. Your key code is proprietary to your department or facility. It is not available to anyone else; unless you authorize it. Key Blanks are restricted and are not available to the Locksmith Community.

Our Housings are made of either Light Weight, High Impact Polycarbonate or Aluminum. Our High Security Medeco and ASSA cylinders and keys are made by the worlds finest High Security Lock Manufacture's. Cuff-Maxx installs quickly and easily over your existing equipment. However, we recommend purchasing new equipment for a fresh start. Factory Installation is Mandatory! We know exactly what to do and we do it well.

Cuffs can be Keyed Alike, Keyed Different or Master Keyed. It's your choice! In addition, Custom Key plans and hardware configurations are available upon request.

We work closely with the departments we serve and strongly believe in a teamwork approach. We encourage an open dialouge with facility commanders in order to ensure you get exactly what you want and not merely what we have to offer.

Restricted Key Systems

ASSA Desmo

Key control is a major advantage of ASSA® Desmo maximum security protection. ASSA® Desmo keys are patent protected and can only be duplicated by authorized factory locations, dissuading attempts at unauthorized key-duplication. The key is 30 percent thicker than most other high security keys used today. The keys are constructed from solid nickel silver for lasting durability, with no deep cuts to weaken the key. The large key grip provides easy handling and adequate space for the stamping of information for easy identification. This key is backed by a lifetime key breakage warranty. This key profile is factory restricted and corresponds to key security Level 4.

With the ASSA® Desmo Precision Drive™ System, locking pins are moved mechanically by the side cuts on the key. Once all the pins are properly aligned, they create two channels for locking side bars, which interlock the cylinder housing and inner cylinder. As the key turns the inner cylinder, the side bars are forced into the unlocked position, which allows the cylinder to turn. As the lock is operated, the side bar pins hold the key in place. This minimizes wear on the key and the pins. As the key is withdrawn in the locked position, the side bar pins mechanically force the side bars into the locked position. This provides a clear path for key removal.

Medeco³

What Does High Security Mean? To be considered truly high security, cylinders and locks are tested by independent testing laboratories to meet specific performance criteria.

Passing UL437 and BHMA's rigid testing procedures reaffirms Medeco³'s ability to protect people and property. Medeco³ builds on Medeco's over 40 years of lock engineering innovation and takes security to the next level while still offering the highest level of protection against unauthorized key duplication.

UL437

Tests prescribed in Underwriters Laboratory Standard for Safety for Key Locks are primarily design to measure a locking cylinder's ability to resist physical attack.

Tests:

10,000 cycle endurance test

Resistance to picking or key fitting tests

Attack resistance tests

- Forcing, drilling, sawing, prying, pulling, and plug driving, and corrosion resistance in a salt fog chamber.

While Medeco³ cylinders meet or exceed UL437 criteria, most common or standard cylinders available today do not meet these minimum guidelines.

ANSI/BHMA A156.30 Level A Certification

Builders Hardware Manufacturing Association (BHMA) standards are certified by the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) which works with industry leaders to provide manufacturers and consumers with product quality and performance ratings based on preset criteria and standardized testing. BHMA standard A156.30-2003, approved and adopted by ANSI, covers high security cylinders and was developed by BHMA to provide specific guidance as to which products can be considered as high security cylinders. Medeco³ cylinders have been tested to BHMA's highest certification level by an independent laboratory and achieved certification in the high security cylinders category. The cylinders meet or exceed BHMA A156.30 criteria for strength and durability, key control, and surreptitious entry resistance.

Other Medeco products, including Biaxial cylinders, KeyMark cylinders, and Maxum deadbolts, have also been tested and certified Grade 1 to BHMA A156.5-2001 criteria for strength and durability.
